Forest Service Control Wanted by Landowners

A petition has been filed at the headquarters of the Forest Service in King City requesting that about 16,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Mill Creek, down the Coast, be included in the Monterey division of the National Forest. The matter will be submitted through the Agricultural Department.

It appears to be the fear of the petitioners, owners of land in that section, which has been of value for grazing purposes only, will be gobbled up by outside interests under the operation of dummy entrants. If the land is placed under the administration of the Forest Service it will be subject to its rules and may be used by nearby settlers upon payment of grazing fees.

Carmel Community Club

The people of Carmel are organizing a Community Club, for the purpose of working together for the betterment of the town.

Carmel has been districted, and representative citizens are calling upon each and every person in the community to acquaint them with the objects of the organization.

As soon as the town has been thoroughly canvased a mass meeting will be called in order to organize, notice of which will be given in the Pine Cone.

It is hoped that each person will do his or her part toward making this movement a success.

The fruit on such trees is private property, and no one has a right to take it. A few arrests may have a salutary effect.

Three More Streets Petitioned For

Dolores, Carmelo, Casanova.
Property owners on these streets filed petitions with the Board of Trustees on Tuesday evening, requesting that improvements similar to that of the work now being done on other streets be made. The City Engineer and City Attorney were directed to prepare the necessary data and papers that the work may proceed.

Poor old Ocean Avenue—got six months, the board sustaining the protest of the property owners to the improvement. Chairman A. P. Fraser, on behalf of his associates who voted for the concrete roadway, stated that in voting to sustain the protest they had not altered their opinion as to concrete being the best material for improving Ocean Avenue.

The six months provision being questionable as to its meaning, Attorney Jorgensen was requested to render a written opinion. It seems that there may be a distinction between a protest against the improvement itself and against the character of the improvement.

Dr. D. T. MacDougal's request that permission be granted him to proceed with the improvement of about five hundred feet of roadway on Twelfth Avenue, leading to the Carnegie Institute grounds, was granted.

A fire alarm bell, the joint purchase of the Fire Department and the city, will shortly be acquired and set up.

Harry Aucourt was engaged by the Street Department for services during the rainy season.

The City Marshall was granted a two weeks' vacation. A substitute during Mr. Englund's absence will be appointed by Police Commissioner Arne.

A LETTER

(Published by the request of the Board of Trustees of the Carmel Library.)

My Dear Miss Clark:

The Board of Trustees of Carmel Library, at a special meeting held on September 19, 1919, voted to accept, with very deep and sincere regret, your resignation of the post of Librarian, to take effect October 1; and furthermore directed the Secretary to inform you that the members of the Board have, one and all, been observant and appreciative of the excellent qualities of mind and character shown in your work, and that have brought Carmel Library to a high standard of efficiency. Among others there were especially mentioned your orderly, neat and business-like methods, your unfailing courtesy and patience under trying circumstances, your intelligent efforts to satisfy patrons, your good temper, cheerfulness and winning personality.

Be assured that you carry with you the cordial good will and best wishes of every member of the Board of Trustees of Carmel Library.

Very sincerely yours,

WEEKLY GREETING

To know not a little of the various arts and sciences, to use them, to be strong, healthy, clean in mind and body; this is a good education.

FACING THE FACTS

The national debt of the United States at the end of the fiscal year 1911-1912 was $1,040,340,000, or $10.40 for each person living in this country. Figuring on the basis of 100,000,000 population. The national debt of the United States on June 1, 1919, was $25,421,151,270. This simply means that every person in the United States faces a national debt that averages $251.10. If conditions that have become so radically changed by this so greatly increased debt are to become in any wise normal, they can come in just one way—the absorption of this bonded debt by the savings of the people.

The answer given the Senate Committee by the governor, W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, to their query as to what legislation was needed at this time and to relieve the financial situation, was: "The Federal Reserve Board believes that any cur-rency legislation at this time is unnecessary and undesirable and would suggest that whether viewed from an economic or financial standpoint, the remedy for the present situation is the same, namely: 'Work and save.'"

The people have got to spend less and save more.

The people can save. Uninvested money is dissipated too easily and is wasted too often. If the money is in the pocket, that new luxury really not needed is usually gotten, for it is easy to convince one's self that it is good business to buy the thing one wants. Invested money earns interest, it is not so easily spent, and it encourages the saving of more.

JEWISH RELIEF WORK IS NOW WORLDWIDE

Christian as Well as Jewish Sufferers Are Aided by Organization That Covers Many Countries in Europe and the Orient.

Quietly, and practically without publicity of any sort, the Jews of America have built up, through the American Jewish Relief Committee and other official agencies, a machine for the organization and distribution of relief to war sufferers of their own and other races that is now practically worldwide. The headquarters of the Committee are at 15 East 40th Street, New York. Expenditures for this work now aggregate more than $2,000,000 a month, and by means of state-by-state campaigns to be held this fall a total of $35,000,000 is to be sought to finance the work through the coming months.

An enumeration of the countries in which relief efforts are being made is indicative of the scope of the work. Representatives of these Jewish agencies are to be found in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Galicia, Serbia, Rumania, and other Balkan states, Greece, Turkey, Palestine and Siberia. Small groups of refugees, cast up by the backwash of war, are being assisted in Holland, Japan, China and other isolated parts of the globe.

All told, many millions of Christians and more than 6,000,000 Jews in countries other than the United States are being directly aided by American Jewish relief funds. The major portion of this humanitarian work is of course carried on in Eastern Europe. It is there that the bulk of the world's Jewish population lives. The fact that these same nations have been perhaps hardest hit by the late war, explains why World Jewry is at the greatest crisis in its history.

But though the Jews of America have set out to save their race from destruction, they are not forgetting that their own people are not the only sufferers in these lands. The significance of the whole undertaking becomes apparent when it is known that the relief supplies which have been purchased and shipped largely with Jewish funds are distributed without discrimination to Christians as well as Jews. Barriers of race and creed have been submerged in the flood tide of suffering throughout much of the earth, and the efforts of American Jewry to aid in the great crisis of today have become as broad as humanity itself.

SMALL CHURCH HAS HISTORY

Many Reasons Why Little North Devonshire Edifice Appeals to the Tourist of Leisure.

It has an odd sound, "Brent Tor," hasn't it? And it is just as odd as it sounds. Brent Tor is a little bit of a stone church built high on the frowning cliffs of the wild North Devonshire coast in England. The church is so little that a Devonshire yokel with a keen sense of humor is said to have inscribed this cryptic warning, which puzzled many a simple-minded Devonshire farmer: "If you get into the second aisle of Brent Tor, you will never get out again."
There is no second aisle in the wee church at all.

Brent Tor was built centuries ago by a man who was lost among the steep cliffs and rushing waters of the wild North Devon coast. The fog mists enveloped him. In his anguish as the roar and spray of the cold Atlantic assailed him he vowed solemnly that if he ever came safely out of the fog without pitching into the growing ocean he would build a church where he landed. Brent Tor was the result.

The good folk 'round about Devonshire tell how the devil tried to hamper the building of the little church.
At last St. Michael de la Rupe, to whom it was dedicated, grew weary of having the devil interfere with the proceedings and heaved a great mass of cliff at his satanic majesty. There was no further trouble.

A peculiarity of Brent Tor is the fact that it can be seen from all directions—it is a veritable landmark.
Before it toss the restless waves of the Atlantic ocean and behind it slope the undulating Devonshire moors.

DID NOT QUITE UNDERSTAND

But Mrs. Smithers Meant Well, and No Doubt Her Good Intentions
Are of Record.

On one side of the hall in the new apartment building lived Mr. and Mrs.
Smithers; on the other side of the hall lived two girls who taught in the public schools and who were having their first experience in "baking it." Mrs.
Smithers didn't know them very well, but she took a motherly interest in them to the extent of hoping that they had enough to eat and that their necessarily hasty and amateurish spread would not give them indigestion.

The other day, out of kindness of heart, she took them a batch of fresh biscuits she had just baked. And when she was there, she showed them how to use the stove, gave them some hints on marketing, wrote down a lot of recipes for simple viands, and gave them a lecture on food values and the preparation of leftovers.

They were very grateful to the dear lady, and they told us all about it. And they made us promise solemnly that we would never tell her that they were teachers of domestic science.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Intensely Interesting

The Monterey Cypress, in its article concerning Redfern Mason's last Friday evening lecture, says:
 "Mr. Mason's talk was unique, interesting and informing. It had its comic as well as pathetic features, and, in the matter of war welfare work by the Knights of Columbus, Red Cross, Y.M.C.A. and Salvation Army, was intensely interesting. The address, coming from a Catholic in faith, and an employed worker for the Knights stowal of praise upon the co-workers of his own people."

The Wonders of America
 By T. T. MAXEY

THE ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEM-ETERY.

FITTING, indeed, it is, that the national cemetery should occupy a position atop the Virginia hills which line the placid Potomac opposite the capital of the nation.

The grounds comprise about 1,100 acres, and once were the property of the grandson of Martha Washington, whose only child married the conspicuous military leader, General Robert E.
 Lee, through whom it passed into the possession of the United States, in 1864.

So peaceful and beautiful is this spot that one half suspects nature just lovingly shaped it for the very purpose for which it is being used. The portion now used for burial purposes is inclosed within a wall of red sandstone. It is divided into sections, with tastefully-arranged avenues, drives and walks.

In this consecrated spot sleep the silent hosts "who gave their lives that the country might live"—approximately 25,000 of them at the present writing. Any honorably-discharged soldier, sailor or marine of the United States service is entitled to burial here.

In one section rest the remains of the sailors who were killed in the wreck of the Maine in the harbor of Havana; in another the remains of 2,111 nameless soldiers gathered from various battlefields, camps and abandoned cemeteries. Here, too, are the graves of many of our brave generals and admirals, including that of Quartermaster General Meigs, who suggested to President Lincoln that this site be converted into a military cemetery.
 Also some time-worn stones marking the graves of several officers of the Revolutionary war.
